Growth a major point in State of the Schools address

(Hilliard City School District, Hilliard, Ohio) –Superintendent Dale A. McVey will deliver his first State of the Schools address at 7 p.m. Oct. 6. at Hilliard Memorial Middle School.

Top on McVey's list is the impact of continued growth on Hilliard City Schools. He'll also discuss the district's goals for the 2004-05 school year, its financial health, and school funding at the state level.

"It is extremely important we continue to inform our public on a continuing basis," McVey said. "We must also share how we are performing as a whole so our community can celebrate in our accomplishments and understand the challenges we face."

There will be a brief musical performance and several pieces of student work on display. The event, open to the public, will be held in the library at Hilliard Memorial Middle School, 5600 Scioto Darby Road.
